Arkansas Commissioner of State Lands – post auction sales lists by county

<http://www.cosl.org/postauction.aspx>

“Properties certified to the Commissioner of State Lands that are offered at the initial public auction but do not sell are made available for sale through the Post Auction Sales process thirty (30) days from the date of the initial public offering. These properties are available for sale by submitting all delinquent taxes, penalties, interest and costs due along with a completed valid Offer to Purchase form from the COSL office. Properties are offered on a first come, first serve basis; however, additional competitive bidding may be required to complete a sale if two or more qualifying agreements arrive on the same day.

“The delinquent owner of record maintains the right to redeem these land(s) ten (10) business days following the official post auction sale date set by the COSL. If property is redeemed within the prescribed period, purchasers will receive a full refund of the purchase price paid, no interest accruing.”
